Seven Stamps Of Double Size

British Columbia's Legislative Buildings here will be pictured on one of the new series of Canadian postage stamps soon to be issued.

News of this distinction, stated to be the first of its kind since British Columbia entered Confederation, came in a Canadian Press dispatch from Ottawa to-day. The stamp will be a double-size one of fifty-cent value.

The dispatch reads: Ottawa, April 18.—Postmaster-General Arthur Gougeon announced to-day that changes in postage stamp contracts had made it necessary for his department to issue a new series of King's head and pictorial stamps which will be placed on sale at the larger centurion June 1.

The single-size King's head stamps will be issued in six denominations: one cent, green; two cents, blue; four cents, purple; five cents, red; eight cents, orange; and ten cents, brown. There will be seven pictorial double-size stamps, including a six-cent brown stamp showing the Parliament Buildings in flight with clouds and sea below him. The others will be: Ten, red, depicting a Royal Canadian Mounted Police constable on horseback; fifteen, purple, showing a group of soldiers marching; twenty, blue, showing a group of soldiers marching; twenty-five, green, showing a group of soldiers marching; thirty, green, showing a group of soldiers marching; and thirty-five, green, showing a group of soldiers marching.

Tax Levy Reduced by $250,000 Since 1932

Mayor Leeming Tells of Relief Given Ratepayers During Last Three Years; Taxes Lower Again This Year

Provided Victoria establishes a forty-one mill rate for 1935, which appears almost a certainty, the city's tax levy, the amount actually provided out of the ratepayers' pockets, will be $250,000 below what it was in 1932.

This was revealed to-day by Mayor David Leeming in a graph he has prepared to illustrate the city's improved condition.

"I would like to point out," the mayor said, "that taxation falling on property, provided a forty-one mill rate is attainable, will be $67,000 lower than in 1934, $178,000 lower than in 1933, and $250,000 lower than in 1932, the first year I was mayor."

"It will be the lowest tax imposed since 1923, with the exception of the years 1926 and 1927, at which time the budget went into deficit," the mayor said.

ASSESSMENTS ATTACKED

Canadian Press
Vancouver, April 18.—Action attacking the basis of property assessments in Vancouver was initiated in the British Columbia Supreme Court to-day when Gerald V. Felton, barrister, filed a writ asking for a declaration that the assessment of certain property owned by C. W. Copp on West Hastings Street is not lawful.

Mr. Felton also asks an injunction restraining the city or its officers from enforcing collection of rates or taxes on the property.

Lou Smith, executive of the Citizens' Progressive Association, announced recently the Copp property had been chosen as the spearhead of an organization's attack against assessments in Vancouver. The association contends property is illegally assessed as it is valued for taxation purposes at much in excess of its actual cash value as is required by the city charter.

BULGARIAN CRISIS GROWS; KING BORIS MAY LEAVE

KING BORIS AND QUEEN GIOVANNA

Canadian Press from Sofia, April 18.—King Boris and Queen Giovanna of Bulgaria are about to leave the country, it was understood here to-day as the government crisis assumed grave proportions.

Three cabinet members resigned following intervention of two former premiers by General Petko Slaveykov, present premier.

Foreign Minister Botev, Economic Minister Maloff and Justice Minister Pichoff precipitated the crisis by handing in their resignations shortly after announcement was made that former Premier Gueorguiev and Zankoff had been interned for attacking the government.

Thereafter into the internment camp with the two former premiers were the former police prefects Natchev, Stamboloff and Stamboloff, and others.

Gueorguiev assumed power in Bulgaria on May 20, 1934, after King Boris appointed him premier. The new premier's first action was to outlaw the Mihaloff wing of the IMRO (Imperial Macedonian Revolutionary Organization), which is known to be a pro-Italian fascist organization. The opposing wing of the IMRO declared it would support Gueorguiev.

For nearly five hours Mon. Hugh A. Stewart, Minister of Public Works; Hon. E. J. Manion, Minister of Railways; Hon. Alfred Durnaleau, Minister of Marine; Hon. W. A. Gordon, Minister of Labor and Mines; and Hon. Robert Weir, Minister of Agriculture, answered questions about the various works contemplated in the bill.

Sandwiched in between their questions Liberals charged the whole scheme was camouflage, criticized the letting of contracts under last year's programme, and wondered where the money would come from.

Dr. Manion said the Liberals were asking for more details than had ever been given on any government expenditures.

CRIMINAL CODE CHANGES URGED

Canadian Press
Ottawa, April 18.—Thomas L. Church, Conservative Member of Parliament, has given notice in the House of Commons that he will introduce a bill to amend the Criminal Code, abolishing capital punishment for women and making wide changes in laws affecting negligent automobile drivers.

The automobile section of his bill would provide among other things that anyone found in charge of any vehicle while under the influence of liquor would be liable, whether the vehicle was in motion or not.

Controversy On B.C.'s Message

Congratulatory Letter to the King Sent Direct to London, Jumping Red Tape

Premier Pattullo's action in cutting through the customary red tape of procedure in addressing a message to the King was the subject of a good deal of talk at the Parliament Buildings this morning.

The province's congratulatory message to the King, signed by Premier Pattullo personally, will be sent direct to W. S. Macdonald, acting B.C. Agent-General in London, along with the Thunderbird bowl, to be placed in the regular channels for transmission to the King.

The constitutional procedure in sending messages to the King is through the Lieutenant-Governor and the Secretary of State at Ottawa.

Unofficially, it was stated the reason for adopting the course of sending the message direct to London was so it would reach the King by Accession Day, May 6.

It is a long time since British Columbia has had a direct message to the throne. The last within memory was a message of congratulation to Queen Victoria on her diamond jubilee in 1907.

An official message does not go through the proper channels if it is returned, but it was considered there was little chance of this in the case of the British Columbia's present letter.

NUGGET PLAN IS DISCARDED

B.C. Cancer Fund Subscription Will Go Direct to Ottawa; Response Good

"British Columbia's response to the appeal in aid of His Majesty's Silver Jubilee Cancer Fund has been most gratifying," said Hon. G. M. Weir, chairman of the Honorary British Columbia Cancer Fund.

The fund totals about $3,000, all receipts not being checked yet.

The original intention was to convene a B.C. convention into nuggets to be placed in the Thunderbird bowl for presentation to His Majesty.

However, due to the difficulty of obtaining a sufficient amount of nuggets to collect a sufficient number of cards from the province, it was decided to forward British Columbia's contribution to the headquarters of the Cancer Fund at Ottawa.

An article bearing likeness of Their Majesty's children, issued by this fund in return for every contribution of one dollar or more, an effort will be made to secure a number of cards from the province.

British Columbia's donation for distribution to those who have contributed to the fund here.

Berlin, April 18.—Germany has conveyed through diplomatic channels an expression of protest against Great Britain's attitude against Hitler's attitude in joining with France and Italy in condemning the Reich's rearmament.

The original intention was to convene a B.C. convention into nuggets to be placed in the Thunderbird bowl for presentation to His Majesty.

However, due to the difficulty of obtaining a sufficient amount of nuggets to collect a sufficient number of cards from the province, it was decided to forward British Columbia's contribution to the headquarters of the Cancer Fund at Ottawa.

U.S. SEEKS TRADE PACT WITH ITALY

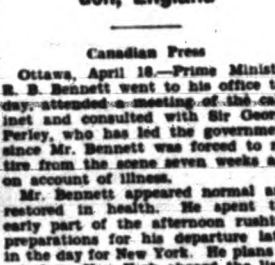

Associated Press
Washington, April 18.—State Department officials to-day said negotiations for a reciprocal trade pact with Italy were still in progress despite numerous difficulties encountered.

It was hoped an agreement designed to stimulate trade between the two countries would result.

This was said in commenting on information given out at Rome that the negotiations had come to a standstill because of American opposition to Italy's system of strict governmental control of all imports.

AWAY DEVELOPMENTS
The people here looked anxiously to-day to the next development from yesterday's strike. All was quiet early this afternoon.

Efforts by Tom Uphill, Labor M.P.P. for Fernie, to settle the three-months-old strike at the Corbin-Cost Mines Limited mine, resulted in failure on Tuesday when directors of the company sent a wire from Spokane refusing to reopen negotiations for a new agreement.

Trouble, threatening for some time, broke out Wednesday morning when a contractor for the company, W. Garrison, and a gang of men were on duty at the mine. The men were attacking the latter with clubs, hammers and stones. The constables fought back with their rifles, keeping the men from the mine.

About 250 strikers, with women among them, attacked the gang, and as a detachment of police approached, attached the latter with clubs, hammers and stones. The constables fought back with their rifles, keeping the men from the mine.

This sum included money paid on approved undertakings, including direct relief.

Last year the Public Works Construction Act set aside $200,000, of which $50,000,000 was spent, although commitments to the amount of $25,000,000 were entered.

Loans to the four western provinces advanced by the Dominion total $70,000,000. The largest debtor is Saskatchewan, which owes the Dominion Government $54,123,000. British Columbia's debt to the Dominion is $15,016,000. Manitoba's $13,100,000 and Alberta's $11,977,000. Other items are included in the total.

Estimates of City Are Slightly Pared

Mayor's and Employees' Salaries Are Increased; Hospital Grant Is Cut

Contending Mayor David Leeming was worth a great deal more than $4,000 a year, Alderman P. B. Brown told the City Council in estimates committee yesterday he accepted full responsibility for having the chief magistrate's salary set at $4,000 in the preliminary 1935 budget against $2,000 last year.

The mayor was putting in full time 100 per cent. In former years when a mayor put in only part time he received $2,500 to $4,000, the alderman claimed.

He moved the allocation be untouched by the committee. His motion passed.

Alderman Brown also accepted responsibility for raising the mayor's salary from $2,000 to $4,000 last year to a suggested $2,000 this year, claiming the costs of entertaining delegations here had overrun the appropriation during 1934. He caused those amounts to be listed under other accounts.

The vote was cut from $2,000 to $1,500 and passed.

Alderman Adam asked the mayor why he did not use the police car when he wanted to make formal calls as the committee considered a suggested grant of $500 for car hire. The appropriation was reduced to $200 and approved.

FIREMEN'S BUDGET

As the committee considered the firemen's budget, Alderman Walter Loney called for special consideration for fire engine drivers, claiming they received no more than ordinary firemen but were subject to suspension without pay in case of accident.

He also moved the fire hydrant rentals be abolished and charged to some other department than the firemen. He wanted a new budget drawn up on that action of the estimates. His move received no support, however.

As the council turned to consideration of the Children's Society's grant it was noted Dr. F. Kincaid, when he introduced the foster home scheme, had promised the costs would steadily decline. On the contrary, the city had been called upon to grant more, it was noted, in view of the fact subscriptions were less now.

Costs of the Isolation Hospital were attacked by Alderman Walter Loney, but no suggestion was advanced to reduce them.

HOSPITAL GRANT CUT

Turning to the Jubilee Hospital grant, Mayor Leeming told the committee of an interview with Hon. G. M. Watt in which the city had informed the minister it was not prepared to make up what Saanich did not pay in hospital bills.

The only way the matter could be remedied, the mayor contended, was by allowing the hospital to get into such a position the government would have to alter the existing act governing city and municipal contribution.

As a result $6,000 was lopped off the annual grant.

Alderman John A. Worthington suggested $2,000 be set aside tentatively for the renovation of the old nurses' home to accommodate indigent infirm cases. He was not supported.

Alderman Loney suggested that part of the establishment be reserved for outside municipalities which did not meet their obligations. Such a course could not be taken, the mayor stated.

NO AID FOR ST. JOSEPH'S

Alderman Loney asked why St. Joseph's Hospital did not receive assistance. He was supported by Alderman James Adam.

If the city had any legal right to give the institution help, the legal advisers of St. Joseph's would have discovered it, the mayor said.

Alderman Adam suggested provision be made in the estimates for taking up the wooden blocks on Douglas Street between View and Yates and that surface paved.

The debate switched to Cook Street, where Alderman Loney suggested the practical policy of having the British Columbia Electric Railway balance its tracks preparatory to improvements of crossings and scarifying and smoothing the surface with gravel and oil.

COOK STREET

Alderman Wills and McGavin spoke of the Fairfield Road intersection, claiming it was a menace to automobile traffic.

A report on the matter was requested from the engineer.

Alderman Brown suggested the council eliminate plans for the purchase of a new Elgin street sweeper at a cost of $10,000 and revert to hand labor in cleaning streets.

Purchase of a new car for the engineer was advocated and approved subject to the deliberations of the special estimates committee.

CHANGE HOURS OF CITY HALL

The City Council yesterday afternoon approved alteration in hours for the City Hall to have that institution open and close its doors to the public half an hour earlier from May 15 to September 14.

Starting on the former date, the hall will be opened at 8:30 o'clock instead of 9 o'clock, and will close at 4:30 instead of 5 o'clock.

The adoption of these changes last year had been a great help to the public in giving office workers a chance to pay their bills before they started their duties in the morning.

Alderman Walter Loney stated the change in hours for June, July and August. Alderman Loney stated he thought it would be better if it were extended over the full twelve months of the year.

The original motion for the four months' period was adopted.

 Toronto, April 18.—The agricultural committee of the Ontario Legislature met yesterday by I. E. O'Neill, was told yesterday by I. E. O'Neill, director of the livestock branch of the provincial Department of Agriculture, that Great Britain was now secondary to the United States as an export market for Canadian cattle.

Mr. O'Neill said the domestic cattle supply in the United States had been decreased by drought and the AAA programme of cattle slaughtering to such an extent that prices were far above usual levels.

As many as 6,000 head of Canadian cattle were being exported weekly to the United States, said Mr. O'Neill, and Canadian owners made a profit on the transaction "despite" the tax of 3 cents a pound on all cattle weighing more than 700 pounds.

FUME

ROME, across the Adriatic from Italy, has Gabriele D'Annunzio, Italian poet and dramatist, to thank for its independence. The allies had seized the city from Hungary during the World War and, while Italy and Yugoslavia wrangled over its possession, D'Annunzio led a force into Fiume and took control.

The Treaty of Rapallo made Fiume independent, but D'Annunzio defied the powers for more than a year, even declaring war on his own country. But Italian backed the city and D'Annunzio fled.

Upward revision of existing minimum wage schedule, to conform with the 25 per cent increase in living costs since the beginning of the year, will be sought from the Provincial Board of Industrial Relations by the legislative committee of the Trades and Labor Council.

The council was unofficially informed yesterday that the board would not consider any changes until it had heard requests from groups affected.

The matter arose with a question from Delegate Charles Chivers, who asked whether or not the board would make the increase. He referred to the Federal Department of Labor's monthly report as his authority for the rise in living costs.

SAANICH OUT FOR TOURISTS

Drive Will Be Made to Feature Attractions of District

Saanich will make a drive for tourist trade in earnest. It was decided at a meeting at Brentwood yesterday evening under the Saanich Board of Trade. W. O. Wallace, president, presided, and leaders in the movement envisioned the possibility that would serve to familiarize the public with the district through the medium of tourists now being planned for.

Reeve Crouch pointed to the attraction of Mount Tolmie as an outstanding tourist asset, being unique with the view of the wonderful panorama it provided. The drive was planned to feature the attractions of Saanich and to show the tourists the beauty of the district.

Mayor Leeming emphasized that tourists went where they could enjoy themselves, and that Saanich was a place where conditions were made attractive to them. He said communities that organized to obtain tourist trade had a gold mine at their doors. He urged the need for better highways on Vancouver Island and for unity of action to obtain tourist trade on a large scale.

T. H. Balch, secretary of the new British Trade Development Association, delivered an oration on the beauties of Saanich and the island, and painting a word picture in glowing colors, pointed to the possibilities that would enable the people here to cash in on a new prosperity. He said this new wealth would flow into the pockets of farmers, bring relief to taxpayers and solve most of the current material and economic problems here.

Norman Whitaker, M.P., leader of the movement for starting the Five Year Plan, and spoke of the value of tourists. He urged that every citizen should get behind the movement and support it strongly. He repeated the arguments presented in the legislature for energetic development of the tourist trade.

During the evening motion picture of island beauty spots were screened.

Price-fixing May Become Necessary

Province Has Power to Set Minimum Levels Although Not Provided by Marketing Act, Says Minister of Agriculture; Three Victoria Speakers at Met-choin Liberal Rally

The time is coming when the government may have to step in and fix minimum prices in order to ensure primary producers a sufficient return for their goods, said Hon. E. C. Macdonald, Minister of Agriculture, when discussing marketing control in an address to the Luncheon of the Esquimalt Liberal Association at Metchoin Community Hall yesterday evening.

The minister pointed out the Marketing Act did not now allow price fixing. He believed, however, that if necessary, the provincial government had power to do so in regard to produce sold wholly within the province, and also to control distribution by permit.

These steps might be essential to give the producers a fair return and an opportunity to raise themselves.

Approximately 100 people attended the meeting at which three Victoria speakers were heard.

Dr. Macdonald opened his address by recalling that prior to the Liberal sweep in Canada in 1926 the country had been suffering a depression with the removal of trade barriers by the Liberal party and the principle of taxation on luxuries and not on necessities of life, the country had bounced forward tremendously under a remarkable era of prosperity. Then the 1931 change to Conservatism preceded another slump. After the war, again, the Liberals assumed power, promoted the adverse trade balance to a favorable one, placed the Canadian dollar at a premium, and another era of prosperity ensued. When the 1929 crash came the Conservatives were once more in power and pursued a high tariff policy to try and stimulate trade. Obviously this had failed.

SENNETT'S ABOUT FACE

In 1928 the Prime Minister was doing a complete about face. If he was sincere, he was to be admired, even though it was an eleventh hour repentance. But it was hardly possible to credit the leader of the Tory party announcing Liberal principles.

Turning to provincial affairs, Dr. Macdonald discussed the Marketing Act, referring especially to the regulation of natural products.

British Columbia had passed the act to supplement federal legislation, he pointed out. It was designed to eliminate the too great profit for distributors of natural products.

This province has already set up more marketing schemes than any other province.

"I'm not sure we are on the right road, but it seems to be the only road we can travel upon just now," he declared.

The success of the scheme, he said, depended largely upon the ability of the men who administered them on the marketing boards.

SCHEMES ENDORSED

Dr. Macdonald spoke of the success of the fruit scheme in the interior, which was endorsed by a 98 per cent vote. He felt sure the Fraser Valley farmers would also fully endorse their scheme, which has been in operation only a short time.

The minister next discussed the

HAUPTMANN FUND TILT

Associated Press
New York, April 18.—Edward J. Reilly, chief counsel for Bruno Hauptmann, and C. Lloyd Fisher, who succeeded him, came into open combat today. Following Reilly's demand for a Bar Association investigation of defense funds held by Fisher, Reilly, asserting Fisher had failed to give accounts for defense funds over which he is trustee, was met with an angry attack by Fisher, who declared from his Remington, N.J., office that Reilly is "disgraced and disappointed," because he was ousted almost three weeks ago by Hauptmann and his wife.

proposed vegetable scheme for the island and lower mainland. In setting up this scheme, he had required that producers voting should be owners. This would, he felt, prevent control getting into the hands of Orientals.

While all the schemes would not be complete successes, he felt they were working toward the betterment of the producer's position. He thought marketing control might eventually show the way to settling the problem of distribution.

MONEY REFORM NOT ENOUGH

Byron Johnson, M.P. for Victoria, plunged immediately into a discussion of B.C.'s economic position within Canada. Monetary reform was not the only solution for the trouble of the province. B.C. exports 85 per cent of its natural wealth—timber, fish, fruit—and so forth—and the study by the economic council showed B.C. bought $61,000,000 of goods in 1932 from Quebec and Ontario, and sold only $5,357,000 worth to them.

He was not averse to B.C. buying as much as possible from the east, but what must be rectified was the price spread due to tariffs.

$20,000,000 EXTRA ON CARS

He estimated that since the war

British Columbians had bought eastern goods to the extent of $20,000,000 in automobiles alone, on total payments of $20,000,000.

Against this, B.C. sold its natural products at world prices.

"Now we can continue to pay this enormous tribute in unimportant goods, but we get no return," he said. "We must get our goods back to the money go eventually? Why, back to eastern Canada, as it always does."

TRADE TREATY WITH U.S.

The trade treaty with the U.S. now proposed might be partly a solution, but, he said, it must be a reciprocal arrangement which would allow B.C. to purchase goods on the same level as they sell.

"I think such a trade treaty will form the basis of the fight in the next Dominion election," he said. "But it must work both ways for us. It may open up markets for our lumber, fish, cattle and so forth, in the U.S. but it will have to sell them on world prices. What I claim is that it should also give us the chance to buy our radios, automobiles, plumbing goods and similar manufactured articles on world prices as well. We don't want to continue paying an enormous bonus on articles which are manufactured in the States, assembled in Canada and then shipped out here at highly protected prices."

WELTH OF THE WEST

Mr. Johnson quoted figures on the enormous wealth produced by western Canada, that had been drained out because of the difference in taxes on world prices.

He also referred to the loss which tariffs cost the province, estimated at about $25,000,000 a year.

He made a strong case for either major party were sufficiently alive to the need for rectification of the situation and urged that it be made a campaign issue.

LIBERAL PRINCIPLES

A. D. MacFarlane of Victoria discussed the subject of Liberalism and what it hopes to accomplish.

In Canada, he said, the Liberal party had stood for the liberation of trade, not only by reduction in tariffs but by a forward-looking attitude to other countries of the world.

It was seeking to correct the attitude of economic nationalism, which seemed responsible for the lack of prosperity in the world as a whole.

The social system of to-day was not really capitalist, he said, as it contained many communistic features. The Liberal party was not antagonistic to either particularly, although it supported capitalism in the main. However, it was the need for reform in the distributive part of the system, which was at fault. There was little criticism of the productive mechanism of capitalism.

Because it stood for a united Canada, the Liberal party's duty was to seek a solution of the east-west controversy, he said, as it should not be approached with a hostile point of view, but rather as a matter of agreement between the east and west. He felt that the Liberal party was the right one to find the solution.

The charge that the Liberal party had no definite policy for the coming election was met by Mr. MacFarlane with reference to MacKenzie King's speeches in the Commons in February last year when he outlined principles of the party.

PATCH ON CANADA'S PANTS

"The people of British Columbia are tired of being the ugly patches on the seat of Canada's pants instead of the diamond studs on its shirtfront," said W. E. Fraser, moving the vote of thanks to the speakers.

W. E. Fraser, president of the Esquimalt division of the Esquimalt Liberal Association, presided.

Mrs. W. L. Whitney-Griffiths, accompanied by Mrs. H. McCulloch, rendered vocal solos.

To Have Vote On Daylight Saving

Voters of Victoria will be given a chance to express their opinion on daylight saving at the annual municipal elections as the result of action taken by the City Council yesterday afternoon.

Alderman Archie Wills, sponsor of this year's unsuccessful daylight saving efforts, introduced a motion asking for the referendum at the civic elections in December. He thanked those who had worked for daylight saving this year and paid a tribute to the citizens who had supported it. His motion was unanimously carried.

The fans are the real bosses of the motion picture industry, according to Gene Raymond, popular young star who makes his latest appearance as a member of the all-star cast of Esplanade's "Transatlantic Merry-go-round," at the Playhouse Theatre.

"They're not only the bosses, but the board of directors and the paymaster. They hire and fire you. They know what they want, and it's up to us to give it to them," says Gene.

Indian Stage Show Opens Good Friday

According to reports from Seattle the "Hi Skookum Revue" which will open at the Empire Theatre Friday is one of the outstanding stage shows booked to appear in the city this season. The show features Chief Little Joe and his musical redskins. Chief Little Joe, heading a stage band composed of a group of full blooded Neepawa Indians, is a very clever musician. All the boys in the group were selected from the Indian colleges of the west through their standing in music and permission was granted by the United States government to make this tour.

Each and every one of the boys have had a college education and are a fine bunch of young students. In addition to the band there are several unusual vaudeville acts.

"The Perfect Circle," a thrilling story dealing with an ex-convict and starring David Mannerling and Mona Stewart will be shown on the screen.

"Little Colonel" To Open To-morrow

Little Shirley Temple's unusual interest in her latest picture, "The Little Colonel," in which she shares starring honors with Lionel Barrymore, was due to a combination of circumstances that did not obtain in her previous films.

It thrilled America's darling that the title role should fall to her. She wanted to know, before the taking of the picture, what dress she would wear, and how closely they re-

W. C. Fields To Be Featured

The screen's leading exponent of comedy and beauty—Bing Crosby, W. C. Fields and Joan Bennett, respectively—vie for honors in Paramount's "Midnight," the new and gala musical film opening at the Dominion Theatre to-morrow, and come off in a glorious tie that makes the picture a flood of mirth and melody.

"Midnight" is a story of Dixie in the days when the ladies wore crinolines and the gentlemen didn't enjoy their morning coffee unless it had been preceded by a duel. Into this colorful and somewhat dangerous country comes Bing Crosby, a Yankee youth from Philadelphia, to claim the hand of his lady, played by Gail Patrick. He won't duel with his rival for the lady's affection, not because he is afraid, but because he thinks the custom ridiculous.

Crosby is branded coward by the others and goes off with Fields, the captain of a river steamer in order to escape.

On the same programme will be Laurel and Hardy in "The Pixer Uppers."

embled the period costumes of the post Civil War days worn by the group.

"The Little Colonel," based on the acclaimed book of the same name, will come to-morrow to the Capitol Theatre. Barrymore plays the gruff Tant-hating Kentucky colonel, and Shirley the charming 10 who proves a peacemaker.

DEBATING FASHION "PIRATES"

It London dress-designers follow the lead of their Paris colleagues, fashion "pirates" will soon be forced out of business. This pirating has become a serious menace to the creative dress-makers, when designs of particularly successful models are copied and sold to makers of cheap dresses, who then produce hundreds of copies at $10 to $15 each.

Miss Mary, who has shown in Paris and London, has been compelled to register every model he creates. For each registration $2 ($10) is paid and he is then entitled to prosecute any infringer.

The French government gives definite protection to dress firms. The protection of designs is controlled by the Ministry of Commerce and Industry, and registration, which is very cheap, lasts for five years.

WAS HOSTESS TO CHIEF GUIDE

Reception for Lady Baden-Powell at Mrs. Jonathan Rogers's Home

Vancouver, April 18.—Arranged to host guides and guides might meet the Chief Guide, Lady Baden-Powell, the reception given by Mrs. Jonathan Rogers, at her home, "Argoed," on Tuesday afternoon was a most enjoyable affair.

The hostess was assisted by Mrs. J. P. Nicoll, president of the newly-formed Girl Guide Council, and the rooms were brightened with bouquets of daisies, hyacinths and lilies in blue and gold, the Guide color.

Mrs. Rogers was wearing a handsome reception gown of silver and blue, with a slight train, while Mrs. Nicoll had chosen a leaf green wool crepe gown with which was worn a large hat.

Mrs. J. P. Nicoll and Mrs. C. B. Hobbs also assisted; the former wearing a navy summer-dress suit with green blouse and blue hat, while Mrs. Hobbs had chosen a leaf green wool crepe gown with which was worn a large hat.

Accompanying their hostess, Mrs. J. P. Nicoll, and Miss Peggy Ross, the hostess, Betty and the Hon. Heather Baden-Powell had visited Greater Vancouver Chapter for luncheon. The party came on to the tea, the two visitors wearing simply-fashioned ensembles of a tailored style.

Miss Dorothy Bellamy was her sister's attendant, and wore an ensemble of dove grey gabardine, the high collar and deep-pointed pocket flaps, applied in Oriental design of rose, blue and golden color. She had in harmonizing tone and she carried a shawl bouquet of lavender iris and white stocks with feathery ferns.

TEA IN LIBRARY

Two tea tables were arranged, one in the library and the other in the dining-room. The latter, lace covered, was covered with a silver with ball, and low bowls of primroses, polyanthus and forget-me-nots with bunches of hyacinths all in blue and gold. Pale green tapers burned in silver candlesticks. The table, also lace covered, was covered with a crystal bowl of iris daffodils and hyacinths. Added to provide at the time were Mrs. W. G. Recent Weddings

McCLUNG-McNAMARA

A wedding of widespread interest was quietly celebrated at the Canadian Memorial Chapel, Vancouver, this afternoon, uniting in marriage Miss Margaret Grace McClung of Calgary and Mr. Horace Barry McClung of Victoria.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. McClung, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. McClung of Gordon Head, V.I. The latter, Nellie McClung, of widespread literary fame.

Miss McClung arrived in Vancouver yesterday evening, accompanied by her mother, Mr. McClung, who went over from Victoria yesterday.

Miss McClung was the guest of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Anderson, in the mainland city.

After the ceremony, the young couple left for a honeymoon in southern California, and will make their home in Victoria on their return.

GIBSON-SMILLY

Charming simplicity marked the wedding that took place yesterday at high noon at All Saint's Church, Alberni, when Winifred, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Gibson of Kildonan was united in marriage to Mr. James Cowan Gibson, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gibson of Vine Street, Vancouver.

Rev. Glen Stevenson performed the ceremony, and Mrs. W. R. H. Prescott presided at the organ.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a frock of maroon blue heavy Roman satin, the bodice fashioned with long sleeves, showing row of satin covered buttons and oval neckline, while her hat, an off the face model, was of same toned taffeta. She wore blue satin shoes to match. She carried a trailing bouquet of carnations, shading from rose to pink, blue delphiniums, white stocks and spiral ferns.

Miss Dorothy Bellamy was her sister's attendant, and wore an ensemble of dove grey gabardine, the high collar and deep-pointed pocket flaps, applied in Oriental design of rose, blue and golden color. WHITE-RODGER

A pretty Easter wedding, in a setting of daffodils and other spring flowers, was celebrated yesterday evening at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. A. Bown, Lovatt Avenue, of Esquimalt, Victoria, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Rodger, 2241 Maple Street, and Mr. Frederick White, only son of Mr. and Mrs. James White, 2953 Cedar Hill Road.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a pretty frock of salmon rose blazer crepe and a matching hat, and carried a shawl bouquet of Calla lilies, roses and carnations.

She was attended by her niece, Miss White, who wore a frock of pale green crepe, and hat to match, whose bouquet was of pink tulips and blue iris.

Mr. Albert Smith supported the groom, and Mrs. Rodger and Mrs. White both wore gowns of black silk crepe and carried bouquets of carnations and violets, respectively.

The supper table was covered with the three-tiered cake, made and decorated by the groom's mother, and was adorned with vase of daffodils, and tall tapers in silver candlesticks.

As the bride left in a brown broad suit with matching accessories, Mr. and Mrs. White will make their home at 1424 Margaret Road.

PREPARING FOR BUSTY SEASON

To Pay $10,000 to Mrs. W. D. Robbins

Washington, April 18.—A bill authorizing payment of $10,000, equal to one year's salary, to Mrs. Irene de Warren Robbins, widow of Warren Delano Robbins, United States Minister to Canada and cousin of President Roosevelt, was approved today by the Senate. The measure now goes to the House of Representatives.

BARGAIN BASEMENT OPERA

A most spectacular opera has been effectively dreamed for practically nothing by means of a bargain basement and a woman's brain. The woman is Frau Maria Bern of Breslau, and the opera is Aubrey's "Fra Diavolo," which is being produced at the Old Vic, London, England.

When Frau Bern was asked to dress the opera, she went straight to the bargain basement of a famous London store, and bought materials for the costumes averaging fifty cents a yard. As the dress rehearsal Frau Bern told an inquirer: "There is no need to spend much money on dress materials. As you see, my dresses are most of native cloth from the front of the house, and yet I paid so little for them. Although the dresses for the chorus are this season's designs, they are really out of the 1880 setting of the opera."

Miss Strohach, of the Dresden State Opera, designed the costumes, and Frau Bern, who has been his assistant for many years, gave up her annual holiday to come to England and supervise the making up of his designs.

Girl Designs King's Panels

Big Jubilee Commission For Young London Sculptor; B.C. Government Co-operates In Model Kitchen.

By Sister's

London.—Although only twenty-four years of age, a girl, Miss Jay Linn, of Northwood, London, has been chosen to design four panels for the "King's House," which is being given to His Majesty as a Jubilee gift.

The four sculptured panels will be placed in the entrance hall of the house. They represent north, south, east and west—the four corners of the empire.

A giant hunter, breathing strength and force, holding back a huge monster, while all about him swirls the driven snow—that is the north.

The glimmer and shimmer of the south are depicted by the sculptured panels of a woman's garment, by palms and water plants, the sun streaming down from an eternally blue sky.

One could almost feel the biting east winds as one gazed upon the tall stately woman whose garments are blown about her, and the whole conception tells of great strength and courage.

The west panel was a little difficult to think of, Miss Linn said. "But I have designed for it a woman holding a jar from which pours water—the fruits of the earth."

And these words of art are the products of the modest young woman in the white overall who a month ago was virtually unknown.

"I am very thrilled to be commissioned to do this work," she said. "I want to be a sculptor and earn my own living. This will help me considerably. I have done a number of busts before, but this is the first time I have had a chance of doing something really creative and imaginative."

"It has been the greatest thrill of my life. I can only hope that I have succeeded in interpreting all the ideas which came rushing through my brain."

ALL-STEEL KITCHEN

Meanwhile one is able to get an impression of what the "King's House" itself will look like. There is an exact replica of it at the Ideal Home Exhibition here.

It has one principal bedroom and two guest rooms, with two double rooms for maids and a chauffeur's room. There are two reception rooms—an entrance lounge-hall, dining-room, carried out in cherry wood, and a drawing-room in apple green.

From the entrance hall (where Miss Linn's panels are to be) there is a door down into the other rooms. This is to give them greater height, sliding doors of bronze enable the drawing-room to be turned into one big room for receptions and parties.

There are several modern features in the bathroom. The mirrors, for instance, are warmed to avoid clouding by steam and there is also an enclosed shower bath with a glass door.

But above all the house boasts the most advanced kitchen to-day. It is an all-steel kitchen.

This is, however, but one of the outstanding kitchens displayed at the exhibition. There are six others planned by Mrs. D'Arcy Brindell, the leading expert, which are bound to prove very practical guides to the home-owner.

There is also an empire timber-ware "daytime" kitchen designed in co-operation with the government of British Columbia, illustrating the possibilities of an alliance of timber.

TWO SECONDS to be sure of her Hair

Less than a minute—less than a penny—to be sure of your hair all day long! To know it's clean, and looks clean. To know it will stay as you arranged it. And to know you have no dandruff.

That's what moistening your comb with a few drops of Danderine will do. And no amount of dry-combing will ever do. Nearly all hair needs the help that Danderine gives it. A dash of Danderine morning and night when you comb it, makes an amazing difference in the way any hair looks all the time!

When you've washed your hair, a little Danderine will keep it from going better-sketter. When you pay a dollar for a wave, Danderine will help you keep it. It isn't sticky dressing, or an oily tonic, and it doesn't leave a telltale odor. Its fresh fragrance is gone so quickly after applying—but not that very marvelous effect of freshness and cleanliness!

With all the care a woman gives her hair, it is a pity to omit this last touch that means so much. It is no trouble. Yet you can hardly believe anything so mild and delightful as Danderine could bring such a change in the condition and appearance of hair and scalp. Just try it. You can buy Danderine at any drug store for thirty-five cents; larger sizes for 50c and $1.00.

The Way Beyond

By JEFFERY FARNOL

"I am happy to have served you," said Richard and bowed.

"You saved my life!" she repeated, and gave him her hands, both of them. "I am Cynthia Belenden, pray who are you?"

"Richard," he answered.

"Richard—what?"

"Just Richard," he smiled.

"Why then, Richard, how . . . how can I ever thank you?"

"Please don't try," he answered, looking to his shoes two very pretty hands. At the which precise juncture (of course) another person chose to make his appearance, and this a tall, too elegant person despite dust and a somewhat listless air.

"Good God, Cynthia," quoth he, "what I say what the deuce and—so forth!"

"You see I am alive, Nicholas—"

"And thank God for it, of course—but—"

"This gentleman saved my life, Nicholas, after you had saved your own."

"No, no, Cynthia, be just. I judge he has—I tell you."

"You jumped?"

"Cynthia, do you take me but—"

"Richard, this is Sir Nicholas Frayne who, when the reins broke and my horses ran away, jumped to safety and left me—for you to save."

"I should therefore be grateful to Sir Nicholas," murmured Richard, favoring the gentleman with stately bows.

Sir Nicholas drew nearer and smiling with his mouth but glaring with his eyes, nodded to Richard and endeavored to take the lady's hand.

"Be fair, Cynthia," he repeated, "be fair for God's sake. You know I was thrown out at the bend! Come, I see the fellow there has mended the road."

"Ay, sir," quoth Tom, testing his handiwork, "and I'll tell you 'twould seem good as ever."

"Come, Cynthia, let me help you into—"

"Never!" she cried, recoiling. "Beside, I haven't thanked my rescuer sufficiently. Now here Sir Nicholas glared at Richard again this time with no pretence of smiling. "Nicholas this brave gentleman risked his life to preserve me from a horrid death."

"Noble fellow!" quoth Sir Nicholas, and diving hand into pocket, he tendered Richard half a guinea.

"Permit me a small remuneration and so forth," said he.

Richard looked the speaker over from head to foot and from heels to head and now in turn smiled with his lips and glared with his eyes. The lady, quick to perceive this mutual animosity, placed a small but compelling hand on Richard's arm.

"Pray help me into my phaeton, sir," said she, like one used to obedience, and Richard, bowing obsequiously, stepped forward. "You jump into the road and there you stay!"

Five Years Agony from GASTRIC TROUBLE

Mr. G. E. of Maine, England, is one of many thousands of people who have the formula of the Head Stomach Specialist of a famous London, England, Hospital, to thank for their recovery from indigestion, gastritis, flatulence, acidity, heart-burn, dyspepsia and other stomach troubles.

His wife writes that Mr. E. was through five years of agony, almost hopelessly seeking relief, finally to find it in this formula, which is sold under the name, Maclean Brand Stomach Powder. "Since then," she writes, "he has never had a touch of pain."

Maclean Brand Stomach Powder offers you a scientific way back to health. Ask your druggist for the genuine, identified by the signature, "Alex. C. Maclean." 75c per bottle. Also in tablet form, but never sold alone.

MACLEAN BRAND Stomach Powder

"Admirable!" she nodded. "I live at Fairholm, which lies upon your way. You shall drive me, sir, for any quite unable see—I am trembling still."

"No, no, Cynthia," cried Sir Nicholas, stepping forward. "I know, I say—what the deuce! I'm here, my dear soul, absolutely at your service and so forth."

"Keep back, Nicholas!" said she, her eyes flashing contempt. "You jumped into the road and there you stay!"

"Good God!" exclaimed Sir Nicholas, staring. "In what Sir Nicholas glared at Richard again this time with no pretence of smiling. "Nicholas this brave gentleman risked his life to preserve me from a horrid death."

usually, "I don't stoop to be panned with these little, a demure, demure, demure weapons are more deadly. Now, were you a gentleman instead of a—Lord knows what, I might—hal! As it is you may—go to the devil!"

"Mistaken!" smiled Richard, stepping lightly into the phaeton and taking up the reins. "I drive with an angel. Tom, have you my stick and knapsack?"

"Here, sir."

"Then into the rumble with you." Then, touching the horses with the whip, off they went, leaving Sir Nicholas Frayne scowling in their dust.

"You think I'm an angel, sir?"

"Well," answered Richard, glancing into the lovely roguish face beside him, "very nearly."

"Thank heaven!" she laughed. "For angels must be so dreadfully well, remember! But I must apologize for the detestable Frayne creature, Mr. Richard."

"No no, indeed I owe him a deal of gratitude. And, pardon me, but my name is in the singular."

"You mean Richard not Richard a Christian name?"

"Precisely."

"Then, please what is your surname? Pray, why so very mysterious?"

"There is no mystery really. I am Richard Vibert."

"Goodness me! I've heard Lord Vibert's name. I've heard Lord Vibert's name."

"Iford?" repeated Richard, frowning. "We were at school and college together . . . So you know Lord Iford?"

"Well, you are acquainted. Mr. Vibert. You see his father wishes him to marry me."

"Fortunate Iford!"

"Oh dear no!" answered Miss Belenden, shaking her black curls very decidedly. "Think his father too utterly detestable, and Iford is—well, Iford and besides he is so frightfully blond and I prefer dark men—generally."

"Pardon me, Miss Belenden, but—"

"Call me Cynthia."

"Then, Miss Cynthia, may I ask a very personal question—and not from any idle curiosity—may I?"

"Of course. Of course you may."

"Then has Lord Iford actually asked you to marry him? Has he asked you lately?"

"To be sure he has—and I've refused him as often."

"Yet he still persists?"

"Of course. Dear me, sir, it is so wonderful."

"No no, certainly not, you are very beautiful."

"You think so, Richard?"

"Yes, indeed!"

"Then why do you look so . . . so positively murderous?"

"I . . . I was thinking of . . . other things."

"Of Iford, sir?" Richard was silent, staring on the distance as if he saw there Lord Iford's hated face.

"Mr. Vibert," Richard, don't you like poor Iford?"

"We are not the dearest of friends, Miss Cynthia."

"Now I wonder why?" For although he is so blond I should think, indeed I know he is very attractive to some women."

"Yet you refused him, Miss Cynthia."

"NATURAL TONIC'S REPLY"

OF OLD DAYS

Housecleaning and spring tonics used to appear simultaneously. Now here Sir Nicholas glared at Richard again this time with no pretence of smiling. "Nicholas this brave gentleman risked his life to preserve me from a horrid death."

NATURAL TONIC'S

Now we know that nature herself has provided spring tonics in the bounties of the vegetable garden and the fruit trees. The apples, overloaded with heavy fuel foods necessary to keep the body warm and energetic in cold weather, needs to be relieved of some of its digestive duties and returned to the warmer season.

The caloric value of vegetables and fruits is much lower than meats, hot cereals or rich desserts which have their place in the winter diet. Because of this they furnish less heat and energy and throw lighter burdens on the digestive organs. Because of their indigestible cellulose, these foods are naturally laxative. They offer rich sources of minerals and vitamins.

BABY'S VEGETABLES

The infant still must have his vegetables well cooked. But the spring vegetables with their delicate flavor and their need for shorter cooking are the ideal choice for the small baby.

The leafy "Fruits and Vegetables Suitable to the Child's Diet," indicates the wide choice of these foods which the older child can enjoy. The leafy may be cooked for a salad, dressed, stamped envelope sent to Myrtle Meyer Eldred, care of the "Your Baby and Mine" department of this newspaper.

RAW VEGETABLES

For the child over two both a raw and a cooked vegetable daily are a healthful addition to the diet. The raw vegetables should be scraped and chopped finely and served in salad or sandwiches. The dressing may be orange juice, or a mixture of lemon juice and oil or a cooked mayonnaise of egg, oil and lemon juice.

Raw fruits or vegetables may be added to a fruit flavored gelatin and served for either a salad or a dessert in the menu.

Any rate artificial tonics are out and these natural tonics to digestion, nutrition and appetite nowadays assume the place that nature has designed for them.

To-morrow "Let Child's Introduction to New Foods Be Pleasant."

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

FAMILY SALUTES KERNELS IN NUT LOAF

By MARY E. DUGUE

When I was a little girl nut cake meant a special occasion. Also hours of work which was one reason, I suppose, why it was never to be offered to the unappreciative. My mother cracked the nuts herself because her father had taught her a magic tale of the hammer that would split the shell, letting the magic fall out in neat halves. Even so it was an endless task, picking out enough hickory nuts to make a cup.

Nowadays when we use nuts, we buy them all picked out ready to use. The nut cake I encountered was at a buffet supper an artist friend gave in her studio.

First we had cocktails with tiny canapés.

Then there was crabmeat souffle with a salad of avocado and grapefruit sections and steaming potatoes.

Finally came the nut loaf with pineapple sherbet.

Here is the recipe for the cake:

NUT LOAF

Two cups sifted cake flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 3/4 cup butter or other shortening, 1 cup sugar, 3 eggs, 1 cup finely chopped nut meats, 6 tablespoons milk, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt and sift three times. Cream butter thoroughly, and sugar gradually and cream together until light and fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each. Add nuts and blend. Add flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Add vanilla. Turn into an oiled loaf pan, 8x4x4. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) one hour and fifteen minutes, or until done.

CRABMEAT TEMPERALE

Two cups crabmeat, lemon juice, 4 tablespoons butter, 4 tablespoons flour, 1 1/2 cups milk, yolks 2 eggs, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper.

Sprinkle fish with lemon juice. Melt butter, stir in flour and slowly add milk, stirring vigorously and constantly. Cook until mixture thickens. Remove from fire, season with salt and pepper and egg yolks of eggs slightly beaten. Add fish and turn into a pan of hot water, cover with buttered paper and bake forty minutes in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.). Serve in dish in which it was baked because it will keep hot longer.

TO-MORROW'S MENU

Breakfast—Baked rhubarb and bananas, cereal, cream, scrambled eggs, crisp toast, milk, coffee.

Luncheon—Asparagus in crusty rolls, radishes and celery, filled cookies, lemonade.

Dinner—Planked pork chops with apple, potato marbles in parsley butter, spinach and egg salad, canned peaches, nut loaf, milk, coffee.

MEN IN WOMEN'S JOBS

Putting men in women's jobs was characterized as merely playing "The Grand Old Duke of York," by Miss Eleanor Stewart, who presided at the annual conference of Women Trade Unionists at Perth, Scotland.

She refuted the suggestion that there were too many women in industry, and declared that they were there because of necessity. Replacing them by men would not help; the solution lay in the direction of raising the school age and taking juveniles out of industry, leaving the work to be done by those better suited for it.

MRS. ROOSEVELT'S EASTER OUTFIT

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, wife of the U.S. President, is ready for Easter. Her Easter dress is part of the wardrobe in which she will preside over White House Easter festivities. It is made of a very fashionable small print, white on black. The triple-pleated collar is edged in red and the belt is of red patent leather.

PERSONAL

Miss Betty Neap of Vancouver will arrive in the city to-morrow, and will be the guest of Miss Kathleen Wilson, St. Charles street, over the Easter week-end.

Mrs. Victor Casanova entertained at a delightful party yesterday evening in honor of her mother, Mrs. E. M. Strachan the occasion being Mrs. Strachan's birthday. The guests included Mrs. H. Howard, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Chugraner, Mr. V. Clayton and Mr. Hamilton.

Mr. Stanley Bulley will leave Victoria on Sunday week, April 28, on route for New York, where he will spend two days before sailing on the Swedish line, Champlain, for his former home at Plymouth, England.

While in Great Britain, Mr. Bulley will make a study and survey of the teaching of music in England and Scotland, and also the appreciation of music courses connected with the adult education scheme. At the end of July he will attend a week's conference, the first to be held in the empire, of Canadian and Old Country organists, to be held at the Royal College of Organists, London. He will then sail for Canada on August 10 on the Duchess of York, returning to Victoria early in September.

C.G.I.T. Council Hear Mrs. McClung

"Happiness is only achieved by making others happy, and it is only through mental and spiritual growth that we can measure our worth," Mrs. Nellie McClung told the C.G.I.T. Council and their guests at the Easter banquet held at the Y.W.C.A. Tuesday evening. She spoke on the subject, "How Do We Measure Our Lives?"

Greetings were brought from the Girls' Council by Miss Audrey Nixon, and responded to by Miss M. Norris for the Council.

Miss Gladys Bell, honorary president of the Council, presented a bouquet to Mrs. A. J. Daniels in appreciation of her splendid work with the C.G.I.T.

Miss Betty Jones sang "Bless This House" and "Beyond the Dawn." A recreation period was enjoyed in the gymnasium in charge of Miss Laura McCall. Miss Olive Lynn moved the vote of thanks to Mrs. McClung and presented her with a corsage bouquet. A supper service, led by Mrs. W. P. Freeman, concluded the evening.

The Girls' Council will meet next Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Y.W.C.A., from where they will leave on a hike. Members are permitted to bring a friend.

UNCLE WIGGILY'S SPOUTING FISH

By HOWARD R. GARDNER

Once upon a time when Uncle Wiggily was hopping past the Duck Pond where he often went sitting in his hat, he saw a small black fish swimming in the water not far from shore. He saw some splashes and bubbles, and some little bubbles and spray.

"Wonder if any of the animal children have lost their Duck Pond hat and are trying to get out?" said Mr. Longears.

"No, no," said Uncle Wiggily, "but when the water was boiling Mr. Longears saw that the connections were caused by a small black fish swimming in the water not far from shore. He saw some splashes and bubbles, and some little bubbles and spray.

Passenger Trains in England Run in Three Sections

By THOMAS F. CHAMPTON
Canadian Press Staff Writer
London, April 18.—London skies and blustery winds heralded the opening of the Easter holidays in England, although springlike weather is expected by the weekend.
The usual Easter rush from London and other cities promised to be greater than ever. Practically all long-distance trains are being run in three sections, and so far as road traffic is concerned the Ministry of Transport has asked for extra caution. It is estimated there will be 200,000 more motorcars and cycles on the roads than last Easter, when no fewer than 600 were killed or injured daily for a fortnight.
Thanks to the government's stringent new regulations, however, the lot of motor traffic so far this year has been 4,000 below the casualties in the same period last year.

Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald will spend the holidays at Eastbourne, coast resort. Rt. Hon. Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, will enjoy himself fishing and golfing.

And bearing out the Chancellor's budget speech, that Britain has recovered 90 per cent of her prosperity, it is estimated 200,000 more persons will be kept at work, or at least work longer hours, than last Easter. The Middlesbrough steel works are so busy that Good Friday will be just another week-day so far as they are concerned.

Council Backs Move to Give Back 3 Per Cent of Cuts; Special Committee to Consider Lower-paid Cases

Employees under the jurisdiction of the City Council, as well as those of the police department and public library, who contained salary reductions during 1933 and 1934, will have their wages restored 3 per cent and a special committee will investigate lower-paid employees in the City Hall to further increase their stipends on a flexible scale. In addition, outside workers of the city will be given 30 cents an hour instead of 40 cents.

That decision was reached by the City Council sitting in estimation committee yesterday afternoon when it considered two motions brought in by Alderman F. R. Brown, former chairman of the finance committee.

Alderman Brown brought in his resolution for the 3 per cent increase, effective from May 1, after D. A. Macdonald, city comptroller-treasurer, had reported on the costs of that step, showing it would amount to $9,500 for the remainder of the fiscal year and $14,500 for the twelve-month period.

"I have asked you only to reinstate the employees' salaries to the extent of 3 per cent as a matter of principle. Some one has to make a move in that direction," Alderman Brown stated.

TRIBUTE TO STAFFS
Alderman Brown paid a glowing tribute to the efficient service of the staffs during the time they had been reduced, and showed how the extra money put in circulation would help improve conditions generally.

The motion was seconded by Alderman R. A. C. Davies, who said only fault with it lay in the fact he did not believe it went far enough. Living costs were rising and would continue to rise rapidly, he claimed.

There were other salaries over and above those touched by the general 3 per cent raise, Alderman Brown mentioned, which would be adjusted under a separate motion.

SPECIAL CASES
Alderman Andrew McGavin rose to say Alderman Brown had taken the words out of his mouth. He then proceeded with a list of low-paid officials whom he considered deserved more generous treatment than the mere 3 per cent raise.

The mayor reminded Alderman McGavin the motion before the council under consideration was for the restoration in part of salary reductions.

times on a percentage basis before the special case was considered.

Alderman Archie Willis asked for a full report of the finance committee's intentions and was told it would be given later.

Alderman Walter Lumley favored the raising of low salaries and then increasing all wages by the 3 per cent. However, he stood for a 41 mill rate and was not prepared to take general action if salary increases would benefit the rate.

Alderman Alex Peden asked for the inclusion of workers on the relief department staff in the salary restoration move and was assured he would receive special hearing on the question by the special committee.

Mayor Lumley expressed the confidence the city would raise the salaries and still not go so far behind as last year on a 41 mill rate.

Alderman Willis asked why the matter could not be considered later and 5 per cent restoration made if funds were available. That was impossible, the mayor replied, because the increase could only be made on a basis of estimated revenue.

Dealing with the second half of the motion, that governing special cases, Mayor Lumley explained that in 1933 the council had gone into estimates exhaustively and had cut down the budget to the bone while maintaining staffs.

Last year no raise or reduction had been made in salaries. This year, however, it could be afforded.

With the exception of the parks and public works departments, he did not think the budget could be reduced to any extent, he said.

City Comptroller-treasurer Macdonald then brought in his special case report, naming some employees to whom he believed greater increases should be given.

A letter was read from the city clerk favoring a substantial raise for his assistant. The Alderman in general supported the letter. Other cases were briefly reviewed before the whole matter was referred to a committee composed of Alderman Walter Lumley, John A. Worthington and Mayor David Lumley. The mayor left the committee open to allow any Alderman wishing to work on it the privilege of sitting in on its deliberations.

Botanical Garden Is Canada's Need

Dr. H. T. Gussow, Dominion Botanist, Gives Illustrated Lecture on Scientific Gardens of Empire; Tells of Work at Kew

"How are we to tell of the economic resources of a country if we know nothing of its plants?" asked Dr. H. T. Gussow, Dominion Botanist, in putting forward a plan for a botanical garden in Canada at a meeting in the Chamber of Commerce, yesterday evening.

"Canada is the only important part of the British Empire which has no botanical garden," he continued. "Most of the large cities of Europe, America and Asia have botanical gardens, but there is not one in this great Dominion of ours."

"Here we are compelled to depend upon the results of others for the knowledge of our own plants, and we have quite often to send out plants to other countries to be identified, which is most humiliating for the Dominion botanist."

"We have no complete flora of Canada, and in our battle against plant pests we have no large collection of plants to draw upon." As an example the speaker drew attention to rust, which ravaged the prairie wheat fields and cost the Canadian farmer $40,000,000 a year. It took seven years to assemble species of wheat from all over the world in an attempt to produce a resistant variety. Now they had three entirely new brands which were practically rust proof, and which were being released to the farmers. But if they had had a botanical garden they might not have suffered as long.

SERIES OF GARDENS
Dr. Gussow suggested that there should be no one spot selected for a botanical garden, but a series of gardens from one end of the Dominion to the other. Of course there would have to be a central garden, and this would naturally be at Ottawa, where the central experimental station and the arboretum and herbarium were located.

The Canadian National Botanical Gardens should make a collection of the flora of Canada, especially the alpine plants, which up to so far had been well collected in the mountain tops.

Dr. Gussow illustrated his lecture with beautiful colored slides of the famous botanical gardens in the British Empire.

"Victoria is in the centre of the most beautiful garden area in the world," he declared at the beginning of his address. "And talking about other gardens here may sound like bringing coals to Newcastle. However, I must remind you the botanical garden is quite a different type of garden."

Aristotle was the father of botany, Dr. Gussow said, in tracing the history and purpose of a botanical garden. From the earliest days botany and medicine were closely allied. Primitive man sought alleviations of his ills through herbs, and from this knowledge of poisonous and beneficial plants grew the world's present medical plants.

In the seventeenth century botany and medicine broke away from each other and each developed along its own path. But both had realized the rupture was ill conceived, and they were now hand in hand together again.

Botany was a science of plant life, Dr. Gussow explained, and embraced knowledge of its external and internal structure, its anatomy, its physiology, its bio-chemistry, its distribution over the world, in fact everything to do with a plant.

The botanical garden, beside serving as a museum of living plants, and an outdoor laboratory in which to study botany, should be a place of rest and beauty. It was not a park in the sense of a place of recreation, but rather a peaceful spot in which to admire the flowers.

Dr. Gussow traced the history of the most famous of the world's botanical gardens, the gardens of the Royal Horticultural Society at Kew. They were founded 150 years ago as a purely horticultural establishment. It was not until Princess Augusta took an interest that Kew became a botanical garden.

Now the garden covered over 300 acres, and had a herbarium with more than 2,000,000 specimens. Some of the plants were brought from the tropics and were horticulturally gathered from the fact there were forty policemen at Kew.

Over 2,000,000 people visited the gardens every year. The upkeep of this vast botanical park amounted to $300,000 a year.

The Kew gardens, Dr. Gussow noted, introduced the guinea tree into the tropical area of the British Empire, and now guinea could be bought in India at a farthing a dozen. The India Government brought out by this botanical garden was one of the most useful books for the botanist.

P. R. Leighton, secretary of the Vancouver Island Horticultural Association, introduced the speaker.

The vigorous man's way to get things done

Vigorous men know the shortcuts. The long-distance telephone is their friend. They use it to sweep aside obstacles and get things done.

Writing is too slow for vigorous men. They don't want to wait for letters to go back and forth. They are too busy. And also they find they get better results if they talk instead of write. So they pick up the telephone receiver, say a few words to "Long Distance", and presto!—the other fellow is on the line, ready to talk.

Canadian Basketball Final Will Open Here Tuesday Night

THE SPORTS MIRROR

THE SURPRISE packet of Scottish soccer cup battles this year. Hamilton Academicals, will play the final at Hampden Park for the final night against the formidable Glasgow Rangers, April 20. Practically newcomers to final football, the Accies came through the preliminary rounds with flying colors. In the huge crowd, probably more than 100,000, expected to pass through the turnstiles at the spectacular Queen's Park enclosure, will be thousands from Lancashire and other parts of the country to cheer themselves hoarse for the Douglas Park side.

The Accies have reached the final only once previously—in 1911. They battled to a scoreless draw with Celtic last year. In the final at Hampden Park, they were to the Celtic 2 to 0 in the replay. On the other hand, the Rangers are past the "stage-fright" period. In the last round seventeen times, they have had their names engraved on the national trophy eight times.

Although the Accies have no tremendous record to back up their bid for soccer supremacy, they are not used to their close opponents, who have smashed records with reckless abandon.

With the league championship clinched Rangers are bent on holding the trophy for another year. If they are successful it will be the fourth time they have held both league and cup honors—and another entry in the record book will be necessary. Celtic, knocked out in the second round by Aberdeen this year, has accomplished the feat three times.

The finalists have played six games each to ensure the Hampden Park finale. Hamilton has had a tough grind, disposing of four first division teams and a second division side. The side encountered a temporary setback against Clyde, being held to a 3 to 3 tie in the second round, but came right back and handed the shipbuilders a 4 to 1 trouncing.

In the semi-final against Aberdeen, experts leaned towards the Dons but the Accies crossed them with a 2 to 1 decision. Rangers topped their quarter division teams and a second division club to reach the final. In the semi-final Hearts held the champions to a 1 to 1 draw but the Accies overcame the replay and Rangers went on to take a 2 to 0 victory. If previous records count for anything the Boro Park team should take the trophy. But a final is never "in the bag" until the final whistle.

Diszy Dean relates how the late John J. McGraw, then manager of the New York Giants, chased him over the fence at San Antonio in the spring of 1930.

McGraw commented to look over Dean at the request of Jimmy Broughton, a first sergeant at Fort Sam Houston, where the great right-hander had been stationed with the Twelfth Field Artillery after enlistment at age of sixteen.

McGraw ordered Dean to go into the outfield and snag flies.

"On the third day I bumped into one of the outfielders and McGraw came running out," laughs Dean. "He was mad. 'Get out of here. Get out of the park,' he was screaming. 'You'll be killed by the players.' I jumped over the fence."

William Harold Terry, then in the ranks, made himself scarce, but little did he realize that McGraw was shoeing away $25,000 worth of baseball.

Terry placed Diszy Dean's value at $200,000. Based on that, the price tag on Paul Dean would be at least $75,000, and when McGraw drove Diszy from the park he was including Paul, for Diszy had his brother into the St. Louis Cardinal chain gang a year later.

The pair picked the Giants out of the National League pennant and world series last season.

Dean is the delight of the baseball writer and cameraman. The former cotton picker never runs out of material for interviews, and, running out of facts, doesn't hesitate to resort to fancy.

Diszy is smarter than most magicians and managers. He realizes the importance of the printed word. "I own the big stuff in the newspapers," he smiles. "If it hadn't been for them I'd still be just another ball player."

Walter Pursey Wins State Golf Honors

Everett, April 18.—Deadly with his putter to take a commanding lead, Walter Pursey, veteran Ingleswood pro of Seattle, won the state professional golf title yesterday, defeating Vern Turpin, Alumnus Club, Tacoma, 7 and 6 in a thirty-six-hole match.

Turpin rallied during the afternoon to hold off any further gains by Pursey, a former state pro titleholder, but was unable to cut down the big lead. Pursey shot a 31, four under par, to win even of the first nine holes.

Assumption Team Heading West to Oppose Ribbons

Eastern Champions Have Brilliant Record; Lost Only Two Games This Season

AITCHISON IS COMING AGAIN

After having watched the Victoria Blue Ribbons lift the western Canada senior men's basketball championship in two straight games from the Winnipeg-Toilers, at the Willows this week, Victoria's cage followers had their interest turned to-day to the Canadian finals. The national play-off between the Ribbons and Assumption College, Windsor, will get under way at the Willows next Tuesday evening.

The national championship event will be a best three out of five games. The second battle is scheduled for April 25 and the third on April 27. If necessary, further games will be played April 29 and 30. The winner will succeed Vancouver Province as monarch of Canadian basketball. The Province, who eliminated this year in the regular league competition in Vancouver.

Officials in charge of the games announced to-day that those fans who had ticket reservations for the western finals will be able to get their tickets for the Canadian play-off by applying at Hocking and Forbes any time after Saturday.

Windsor, April 18.—Westward-bound in search of the Dominion senior basketball title, a squad of ten Assumption College players, along with Coach Rev. W. F. McGree, left here to-day with Victoria as their destination.

The party will travel across the United States to Seattle, leaving that point by boat for the Canadian city. The championship series with Victoria Blue Ribbons will open April 25.

Three of the players, Captain "Scrubby" Aitchison, Glen Sheerman and "Toots" Meretky, were members of the Windsor-Walkerville alumni that battled the Blue Ribbons in Victoria in the 1933 title struggle.

Assumption has lost only two games—one by single point—in twenty-five contests this year, and has piled up a total of 1,003 points, an average of forty points a game, or a point-a-minute. "Moose" Rogie has amassed 256 points to lead the marksmen.

Other players in the squad are: Don Desjarlais, Stanley "Red" Nantals, Bob Harrison, Bill Byrne, Stan Galup and Harold de Bore.

WINDSOR HAS SMART SQUAD

Coach Gordie Fuller Confident His Girls Will Extend Edmonton Grads

Windsor, Ont., April 18.—Windsor has the best team ever to sport Alumnus colors, Gordie Fuller said to-day, as he gave his team an even chance to dethrone Edmonton Grads from their Canadian women's senior basketball throne in the series starting here Saturday night.

The Windsor-Walkerville Alumnus coach, whose team averaged more than fifty-seven points a game this season, bases his determination on prediction on three points—the presence of Hester "Bill" Churchill in the line-up, the fact his team experienced more competition this year and his ample supply of alternates.

When Alumnus met Percy Page's proteges in the finals for the Canadian title in the western city last year they lacked subs, had played only four games compared with twenty this year and there was no Churchill on the team. Despite this they were defeated by only fifteen points in the second game.

Taking into consideration all these factors, Fuller is confident his team has a fifty-fifty chance to upset the Grads. Miss Churchill, he believes, has no equal as a centre in women's cage action in eastern Canada.

Alumnus's competition has included a number of games against boys' and men's teams and they have improved greatly with the experience provided.

Chuck Chapman Loses Whiskers

Chuck Chapman, captain and crack guard of the Victoria Blue Ribbons, newly-crowned western Canada senior men's basketball champions, is walking around to-day with a clean face. At least he is not sporting any heavy growth of whiskers. After yesterday evening's victory over the Winnipeg Toilers, Chuck went home and got out the old razor and scraped off three days' growth.

The big red-head is superstitious to that he never shaves after a series gets under way. During the B.C. play-off against the University of British Columbia, Chuck took to the barber after the first two games in Vancouver and the remainder of the players declare that was the reason the series went to five games. Now he is worth Chuck's life to touch a razor during a play-off. What a beard he will have if the Canadian finals should go the full five games. Even his best girl won't know him.

Hobson, who received his master's degree in physical education at Columbia University, succeeds H. Reinhardt. Coach Reinhardt is resigning to become head basketball coach next fall at George Washington University.

Hobson coached at Kelso, at Courtland State College in New York, and at Benson Polytechnic High in Portland before going to Southern Oregon Normal.

PAKISTAN DEATHS

Good Fields For Distance Races

Runners All Prepared for Britannia Branch Road Events To-morrow; Three Contests To Be Staged

Distance men of the city were on edge to-day for the running season's opening features, the Britannia Branch road races, which will headline to-morrow morning's sports programme.

In a field of eight seniors, the Loeffler brothers, Fred and Rudy and Clarence Sluggitt, Keating athletes, were among the favored, but the race is far from a foregone conclusion, with several dark horses, as well as Caesar Finnemore, a former winner, entered for the laurels.

Seniors will get away at 10:30 o'clock from in front of the Britannia Branch clubrooms on View Street and proceed along Douglas to Roger Avenue. They will turn into Quadra Street and proceed down that highway to View Street, finishing at the starting point.

The Loefflers will represent the Y.M.C.A. in the event, with Clary Dymally, Sluggitt and R. Ryan running unattached. H. Louieck and Vic Vanheer will carry the colors of the Canadian Scottish, and Caesar Finnemore the C.C.F.

JUNIORS
Ten juniors will cover the route from headquarters along Douglas Street to Cloverdale Avenue, along Cloverdale to Quadra Street, down Quadra to View and back to the starting point.

They will start five minutes after the seniors. Jim Robinson, Y.M.C.A. boy, is one of the favored entries for the event. K. C. R. Barker, D. Colgrave, A. Clowes, F. Mellan, R. Price, and W. A. Walters will represent the Royal Canadian Naval Barracks. Peter Cooke will run for Victoria High School, and George Neal for the Chinamen Students, and E. Geddes for Sooke A.A.

Leslie Barnes and Lewis McCormick, unattached, Peter Bourne, South Park School, and Bert Hudson, Y.M.C.A., will compose the field for the juvenile race scheduled to start at 10:35 o'clock.

The boys are listed to run along Douglas Street to Benson Street, where they will round markers and return along Douglas back to the starting point in front of the club.

ROUTES IN GOOD CONDITION
Members of the committee have gone over the routes and report them in good shape. Police have completed traffic arrangements to give the runners clear way.

Further prizes have been donated by the Northern Electric Company and the Canadian John Manville Company. It was announced to-day. The branch's band will play outside the headquarters shortly before the race.

Bellingham Team In Mainland Loop

Bellingham, April 18.—The Model Truck baseball team became a two-league aggregation Tuesday evening when Manager Ralph Wilkie signed with Bob Brown, baseball champion of Vancouver, B.C., to enter the local team in the Vancouver Senior League.

Previously the local club had entered the Northwest League and will play its first game in this loop here Sunday against the Gibson Cleaners of Seattle.

Lights are being installed on Ratsemyer Field. The first night game will be early in May.

Ribbons Click To Score Second Win

Bobby Reith Has Two-stroke Lead

Winnipeg, April 18.—Youthful Bobby Reith had a two-stroke lead to-day in the hunt for Manitoba representation on Canada's golf team to tour Britain this summer. Reith scored 65-73-128 in the first thirty-six-hole test yesterday.

Reith will play off to-morrow with Alex Weir and Bud Donovan, each with 161, and Dave Arnold, 164, in the final thirty-six-hole play. The player carding the lowest score will be declared Manitoba's representative.

Victoria Champions Capture Western Canada Hoop Honors by Trouncing Winnipeg Toilers, 61 to 33; Second Straight Victory for Locals; Red Martin High Scorer

Clicking on their dynamic offensive even better than in the first game, Victoria's Blue Ribbons blasted Winnipeg Toilers out of the western Canada senior men's basketball championship series at the Willows yesterday evening with a smashing 61 to 33 victory. The win gave the tea-and-coffee boys the western title in two straight games, they having won the opening tilt Monday night 53 to 23 to outscore the Manitobans 114 to 56 on the two games.

The Ribbons will now bide their time until the opening of the Canadian finals here next Tuesday evening against Assumption College, Windsor, eastern titlholders. Assumption, under Coach Father Magee, will entrain for Victoria immediately, and should be here at the beginning of next week. It will be a best three out of five game affair.

FASTER GAME
Yesterday evening's game was witnessed by a bigger crowd than Monday night, and the spectators got a better exhibition for their money, although the score was not close. The Toilers worked harder and their play and shooting was much improved over their first tilt. The Toilers, however, were also improved, and their shooting and ball handling was more up to their regular standard.

The Toilers were just up against too good a club, and after the series the visiting manager and players declared the Ribbons were the finest aggregation of basketball players they had played against this season. The Winnipeg boys took their defeat like the good sports they are, and wished Manager J. A. Brown and the Ribbons players the best of luck in their campaign for their second Canadian championship in three seasons.

"Keep the title in the west," were the parting words of the Toilers. Highlight of the game was the appearance of Murray (Muzz) Patrick on the Ribbons line-up. The big forward, who was captain of the outstanding players of the 1934 Ribbons' championship club, got a big hand when he stepped on to the floor to warm up before the start of play, and also when he was introduced in the second half. Although he was only on the floor for a few minutes he dropped through a pretty basket.

With over a thirty-point lead in the second half, the Ribbons pulled three of his regulars, Arthur Martin, Percy Andrews and Doug Pennd and put on Patrick, Johnny Craig and Joe Ross, who had with him Chuck Chapman made up five original of the 1933 team, and the veterans got much applause.

DRIVER IS GONE
Vic Driver, guard of the Toilers, who played through the first game with an injured leg, again took the floor yesterday evening and despite the handicap turned in a sterling performance. The fans showed their appreciation of his gameness with a tremendous ovation as he went off for a rest.

Ribbons' offensive was led by the lanky Martin, who fired the hoop for seventeen points, the majority of which came from his going in after rebounds. Art Chapman was second high with fifteen. Bruce Dodds, hard-core guard, was the Toilers' top scorer with thirteen points. Twelve of which were registered in the second half.

Each team had five personal fouls called on it, while two technical fouls were divided.

Toilers opened with the first basket after fifteen seconds, Hampton converting under the hoop after Pennd had cut loose with a wild pass. Art Chapman took a pass from Martin to tie it up. Hampton got away again, and snared his second basket. Andrews potted a one-buzzer from the side to make the count 4 to 4. Hampton came back for the third time to give the Toilers the lead with a pretty shot over his head from the key. Dodds fouled Pennd, and he scored one of two line shots. Art Chapman dropped through a one-buzzer to put the locals on top, 7 to 6.

BASKETS COME FAST
The Ribbons started to hit their stride, and baskets by Andrews and Martin, and a foul shot by Martin gave them five points. Driver split the Ribbons' defense to get in close scores of his gameness with a tremendous ovation as he went off for a rest.

Tom O'Brien, Charley Miller and Pape, all of whom had fought Flynn twice, were among the pallbearers, along with Alvin Turk, trainer of Seattle's team. Al Williams, another old-time fighter, Rube Smith, and P. T. Flynn, Jim's brother.

Behind the coffin followed Joe Rivers, a great middleweight of yesterday; Louie, Jack Kennedy, a referee; Jerry (the Greek) Lovell, Dempsey's trainer; Tom Jones, once manager of Jim Willard; Pape, Ad Wolgast and Charley O'Connor, Tommy Burns' manager.

The remains were lowered into the grave at Calvary Cemetery.

Flynn, who was fifty years old, died last Friday in a city hospital after suffering a heart attack.

McCREADY TO APPEAR HERE

Canada's Leading Heavy-weight Wrestler to Meet King Kong Cox Saturday

Victoria wrestling fans will have an opportunity of watching Canada's leading heavyweight in action at the Yillium gym on Saturday evening when Earl McCready, holder of the national championship, goes up against King Kong Cox, California. In the eight-ten-minute round main event of promoter Fred Richardson's weekly card.

In the first eight-minute round semi-windup Jim Healey, San Francisco, has been matched with Mike Buehler, Jugoslavina. The latter will be making his first straight appearance in the local ring. Last Saturday he registered a fine victory, and the week previous turned in a great bout against Count George Zaryoff. Healey is expected to be a capable wrestler, so a good bout is expected.

Portland, Ore., April 18.—Ted "King Kong" Cox, 230-pound local, Calif., grappler, ran berserk after losing the first fall of his wrestling match here yesterday evening to Jagat Singh, 230, India, and "no contest" decision was proclaimed.

Cox took a deep swig of water and sprang right back in. Suddenly he seized the water bottle and hurled it at the fleeing Hindu.

Then Cox leaped over the ropes, swung on a couple of customers and rushed the ring booth, pulling wildly at all wires in reach. He jumped back into the ring, swelled up like a pouter pigeon and challenged the world.

Portland's police force accepted the challenge. Captain Joe Keegan issued orders to stop the match and call it no contest.

RING GREATS AT FUNERAL

Billy Papke, Charley Miller, Ad Wolgast and Others at Rites for Jim Flynn

Los Angeles, April 18.—The body that was Fireman Jim Flynn, game as any boxer the sport has known, went to the grave yesterday while calloused hands brushed aside unaccustomed tears.

It was a strange gathering that knelt before the altar at St. Vincent's Cathedral to pay final tribute to the man who fought such champions as Jack Dempsey, Jack Johnson, Tommy Burns and Billy Papke.

Bashed-nosed old fighters, who had met the "only man who knocked out Dempsey" in the ring, were there. Old-time managers who sent opponents against the fury that was the Pueblo, Colo., fireman. And so was Uncle Tom McCready, who promoted mid-time fights at Flynn's booth.

NOTABLES THERE
Tom O'Brien, Charley Miller and Pape, all of whom had fought Flynn twice, were among the pallbearers, along with Alvin Turk, trainer of Seattle's team. Al Williams, another old-time fighter, Rube Smith, and P. T. Flynn, Jim's brother.

Behind the coffin followed Joe Rivers, a great middleweight of yesterday; Louie, Jack Kennedy, a referee; Jerry (the Greek) Lovell, Dempsey's trainer; Tom Jones, once manager of Jim Willard; Pape, Ad Wolgast and Charley O'Connor, Tommy Burns' manager.

The remains were lowered into the grave at Calvary Cemetery.

Flynn, who was fifty years old, died last Friday in a city hospital after suffering a heart attack.

ARCHERS TO OPEN SEASON

New Range at Saanich Recreation Park Will Be Put Into Use Saturday

The newly-formed Archery Society will open the season on Saturday. The new range is located at Saanich Recreation Park on Reynolds Street, Lake Hill. Mayor David Leeming and Reeve Crouch of Saanich will officially open the range at 3 o'clock by releasing the first arrows.

The society has appointed P. W. Rookes as field captain, and are fortunate in having this position so capably filled by such an experienced member. For many years he has been a strong archer in other parts of the country. The Lake Hill Lawn Bowling Club have graciously consented to assist in the serving of an afternoon tea which will be held after the official opening. It is expected that a large audience will witness the opening of the first Archery Society on Vancouver Island, and persons wishing to be present can obtain transportation on the Lake Hill bus which leaves the Broughton Street depot on the hour and the half-hour.

Star of Boston Hockey Team Says Defencemen Need Forward Experience

Windsor, Ont., April 18.—To be an all-round defenceman, a player should have experience as a forward, in the opinion of Eddie Shore, adjudged number one player in the National League and awarded the Hart Trophy for his usefulness and effectiveness during the season just ended.

The sturdy Boston Bruin defenceman visited Windsor yesterday to purchase a new automobile before departing for his fag, near Edmonton, Alberta.

The opinion concerning defencemen was expressed when the subject of Charlie "Conacher," Toronto "Maple Leafs" great right-winger, dropping back to the rear guard was brought up.

"It will take Conacher a year or more to learn how to play defence properly," declared Shore. "Then if he makes a go of it, his ability to lay down a pass and take a pass, gained as a forward, will prove invaluable to him."

Victoria United Ready For Last Home Game To-morrow

Rep Team To Meet Vancouver Rangers In Soccer Battle

Bill Boyd Only New Man on Local Squad for Inter-city Fixture

Visitors Bringing Fast, Young Squad

Playing their last home game, Victoria United, using virtually the same players who have won two games and drawn one in their inter-city series, will stack up against Vancouver Rangers in to-morrow's sports feature at the Athletic Park. The game is scheduled to start at 2 o'clock with T. M. Robb blowing the whistle. The Boys' Band will be in attendance from 1.30 o'clock.

Rangers, joint leaders of the inter-city series with New Westminster Royals, are expected to send over a younger, faster and more aggressive team than other clubs have used against the Capitals in the games so far.

Against the stout Victoria team they should be able to turn in an exceptional smart exhibition of soccer.

With the exception of Bill Boyd, Reymond, who is making his first appearance on the local rep team, the Victorians will line up as they have in other successful games. To date they have lost but one fixture when they were below strength. Of their other three games they have won two and drawn another.

Actual percentage position of the local outfit could not be learned today, but they were reported very much in the fight for the laurels by Jack Jones, secretary of the Victoria commission.

Officials in charge of the team gave the United more than an even chance of winning the fixture. All the boys were reported to be in good shape for the engagement.

The locals will play one more game in the series following to-morrow's fixture. The sixth encounter will be staged on the mainland when the United stack up against the Royals on March 27.

Local Debutants will play goal to-morrow with Al March and Sammy Miller teaming up as full backs. Bill Boyd will be a new man on the half back line, which will be filled out with Roy Barnes at centre and Ronnie Williams.

The smooth working front line will remain intact with Gordie Bell, Alec Stewart, John Watt, Noel Morgan and George Payne starting.

As reserves the team has Wes Harper, Pierre, Lortendin, Gibson, Vigors and Campbell.

COMPLETE OLYMPIC HYM

Berlin—An "Olympic Hymn," especially composed by Richard Strauss for next year's Olympic Games here was sung before Chancellor Adolf Hitler by Franz Veitner. Nazi opera singer, with Strauss himself accompanying. The Führer expressed approval of the hymn.

Great Fielding Record Broken

Minneapolis, April 18.—An all-time American Association record of sixty-seven consecutive games without an error was ended here yesterday when Paul Todd, first baseman for the St. Paul club, committed one error to end his string of perfect fielding games.

Todd, had a fielding average of .996 last year when he played in 46 games without a bobbie, fielding perfectly in the opening game against Minneapolis in St. Paul Tuesday but dropped a throw when going after a wide try yesterday.

NEW RUGBY BODY FORMS

Five-man Committee Will Govern Affairs in British Columbia in Future

Vancouver, April 18.—The executive board of the British Columbia Rugby Union passed out of existence yesterday evening and a five-man committee replaced it as the governing body of the game in the province.

Arthur Cox and H. J. Ketchen, Victoria, were named Vancouver Island representatives on the new committee at the annual meeting of the B.C.R.U. here yesterday evening.

Two Vancouver members will be selected at the meeting of the Vancouver union tonight, and the four members will name the fifth, who will be chairman, probably next Wednesday.

The B.C. Union's stand of refusing to play any United States teams unless they operate under regulations of the Rugby Union, parent body in England, was affirmed. Should American teams come into line, which would mean dropping their present use of substitutes, the B.C. Union is prepared to enter into negotiations with California teams for exhibition games.

The B.C. Union will also apply to the Rugby Union for membership in the parent body this year.

Included in the duties of the new committee will be appointment of a referee board to settle disputes and iron out differences that may be found in the rules of Victoria and Vancouver unions.

Honorary officers elected yesterday evening include: Honorary president, Lieutenant—Governor J. Fredman Johnson; honorary vice-presidents, Mayor G. G. McGeer, Vancouver; Mayor David Leeming, Victoria; Col. Victor Spencer, Vancouver; B. C. Nicholas, Victoria; Commander C. O. Jones, B.N. Reymond; Al. Nagar, Stacey, A. McKee, F. W. Rounsfell and Frank Burd, all of Vancouver.

McDonald, Percy Anderson, Joe Ross, Earl Wallis, Doug Feden, Chuck Chapman, Art Chapman and Albert Martin.

OTTAWA TEAM TO BE MOVED

Transient Senators Will Be Sold Lock, Stock and Barrel if Possible

St. Louis, Mo., April 18.—The transient Ottawa Senators hockey team, which came to Missouri last winter and waged an unsuccessful National League struggle as St. Louis Eagles, appeared to be in for another change of scenery.

The club owner, Redmond Quinn, Ottawa, announced here yesterday he would attempt to sell the club, lock, stock and barrel—before the snow flies next winter. If such a transaction was completed, Quinn said, the franchise would be held in abeyance and the players either rented or sold outright to other clubs of the National circuit.

The youthful owner did not say whether he had a client for the club in mind. It was recalled, however, that the present operator of Cleveland Falcons in the International League, Larry Sutphen, only this week announced he had already "put $50,000 on the line" for a National League franchise.

Sutphen was in New York for a meeting of the International last Sunday when he predicted either Montreal Canadiens or the St. Louis team would perform in Cleveland next season.

Fergus, Ont.—Fergus increase authorities are shooting for the March Cup and 1936 Olympic Games. Matt Robinson, former Hamilton Tiger star, has come here to live and play for Thistles this summer, and several other outside players are expected to move in.

Announce Draw For B.C. Amateur Golf

Select Field Will Tee Off In Thirty-six-hole Qualifying Round at Colwood Club To-morrow Morning; Final Will Be Played on Monday

With an entry list of forty-six to date everything is set for the opening of the British Columbia amateur golf championship at the Colwood Golf Club bright and early to-morrow morning. Although the entry is small it is select and officials in charge are looking for plenty of competition between the new champion is crowned on Monday.

Although the official list has closed those in charge will accept any additional entries between now and to-morrow morning. Dick Moore, Vancouver, last year's winner, will not be over to defend his crown, owing to his departure for England with the Canadian team. Moore will also be accompanied by his brother, another formidable Vancouver shotmaker and former provincial title.

Heading the strong entry from Vancouver will be Stan Leonard, rated one of the finest amateur club players in the Dominion. Three double players, G. Greenway, J. Ketchum and R. W. Maclellan, will be in the thick of the race for the title.

Ribbons Click to Score Second Win

man went into the basket and when brother Art tossed him the ball the basket was a click. On a fast break Dods took a pass from Phillips and got two points. Feden tore the length of the floor to get in close for a major score. Ribbons pulled their last tip-off play, with Art Chapman leading the ball to Martin under the basket on the jump, and one of the fastest baskets of the game was chalked up. Phillips fouled Art Chapman, and two grain throws were good for one point.

Tollers got two points on Phillips' pretty shot from the side court. Art Chapman pushed home his own rebound, and Feden got two more points just before the half-time whistle. Score: Ribbons 31, Totems 14.

Chuck Chapman opened the final half with a free throw the big guard took the rebound and slipped the ball to Anderson, who counted. Feden added another field goal from the side, and Art Chapman pushed the ball through the hoop on a jump near the Totems' free throw line. Dods got a nice score from well out. Art Chapman heaved the ball the length of the floor to Martin under the can for a set-up. Martin returned the compliment by giving Art a pass for a basket. Feden took another mappy pass from Art Chapman to get two points. The Ribbons rattled through baskets in merry fashion, and with the score 31 to 16, Manager Barnwell yanked Anderson, Martin and Feden for Ross, Patrick and Craig.

With the smaller men opposing them the Totems cut down the tremendous lead of the Ribbons a little, but the final whistle found the Victoria team still leading by twenty-eight points.

In the preliminary fixture Kingham and Gillespie defeated the Fernwood Merchants 30 to 10.

Boston Sox Trip Up Yankees Again

Go to Top of American Baseball League as Result of 4 to 3 Ten-inning Victory; Champion Detroit Tigers Drop Opener to Chicago; Several Games Held Up by Weather

With President Roosevelt on hand to throw out the first ball and remain through the game to bring good luck, Washington Senators got off to a flying start before 21,000 customers by trouncing the Philadelphia Athletics 4 to 2.

Before a crowd of 34,000 the champion Detroit Tigers lost their first game to the rebuilt Chicago White Sox, 7 to 8, as Zeke Bonura smacked two doubles and a single, starting each of Chicago's three rallies.

Cincinnati Reds, who lost their own opener, gave the Pittsburgh Pirates a taste of their own medicine by moving on to Pittsburgh and taking a 7 to 4 decision before 10,000 opening day fans.

Cold weather stopped the New York Yankees from playing at home.

When the curtain rose Tuesday it was Babe Ruth and the Braves who held the centre of the stage. Yesterday it was the Red Sox, who indicated to no uncertain terms that they are out to get into the pennant fight and stay there as they turned back the mighty New York Yankees for the second time in succession.

Tangling in a second round duel, the Red Sox won out 4 to 3 in the tenth inning after they had escaped a defeat by the slim margin of a ninth inning home run by Max Bishop.

The triumph put Boston up at the top of the standing as the only team with two victories. Most of the teams which started the campaign off Tuesday were kept idle by cold weather or rain, although belated "openers" were staged at Washington and Detroit with some 48,000 fans turning out to bring the total for this year's first games up to 148,687.

Fine Show of Work by Blind

Originality and High Finish
Features of Display at
D. Spencer Limited

There is very little in the way of handicrafts that the blind cannot do with expert tuition, judging by the display to be seen in the Government Street window of David Spencer Ltd. The sale of work has been organized by the Victoria Women's Auxiliary of the Canadian Institute for the Blind, headed by Mrs. T. A. Richard.

The work shows a great deal of originality and a finish worthy of the best craftsmen in full possession of their sight. The display has been open since Monday, and will close on Saturday evening.

The samples of work done by the fifty-six blind persons in Victoria, who are visited and instructed by expert teachers, cover a very wide range.

Attracting perhaps the most attention are the beautiful and useful things made of aluminum, with various colors combining with the bright metal.

Other attractive and useful things on display include leather wallets and shopping bags and basket work of all kinds, from candy-tray sets for bridge tables to fern stands and "garden benches."

There are knitted goods of all sorts, including scarves, tea cozies and hot-water bottle covers; all sorts of trays and flower stands of various materials, little tables and rush-bottomed chairs for children's tea parties, and a host of other colorful and useful things.

Three really practical things which would be of use in any house, and which are made entirely by the blind, are rubber door mats, wicker tubes to hold the morning milk bottle, and string bags, which were for ever and can be used for carrying everything from wet bathing suits to tennis balls.

The organizers of the display are ready to take orders for work of any sort, and for the making of any article on display in Spencer's window in any size.

Apart from any thought of helping a deserving cause, work will be rewarded with goods of an exceptional quality.

The telephone number for the taking of orders is G 2084.

Speedy Judgment Move Is Denied

The move of Maria Romano of Seattle, through her counsel, H. W. R. Moore, to obtain speedy judgment here on a $3,312 judgment rendered by the courts in Seattle against John Maggiora, former house of the Westholme Hotel, Victoria, and now of the Rock Bay Hotel, was denied in the judgment to-day of Mr. Justice Robertson of the Supreme Court.

The justice pointed out that in his defense Mr. Maggiora, through his counsel, E. V. Finland, set up that case in the Seattle action and that he took no part in the alleged proceedings there, also that he did not defend the action because he had no opportunity to do so because he was not personally served.

"It is clear to me that if the defendant's submission is correct, the failure to serve him or give him notice of the proceedings in the Washington action was a substantial injustice committed against him according to English notions, and it is clear that such a defense if made out would be an answer to the foreign judgment," the justice said. "This is a triable issue which must be tried in the ordinary way. Accordingly the defendant is given leave to defend."

Three permits for woodways were approved by the City Council yesterday afternoon.

CARVETH GETS THREE YEARS

Lengthy Record Brings Long Sentence for Man Who Admitted Unlawful Possession

Theodore ("Toody") Carveth, who admitted unlawful possession of 145 pairs of stolen stockings from Angus Campbell Ltd., was sentenced to three years' imprisonment by Magistrate Jay in the City Police Court this morning.

Carveth, who had a lengthy record, extending from his juvenile days to March last year, had nothing to say when asked by the court if he wished to speak.

Detective William Stark, who with Detective Ben Acrompy, arrested the accused, gave details of the case. The detective's suspicions were aroused when he saw the accused boarding the midnight train on Good Friday night.

On investigation they discovered one grip contained the stockings, which had been stolen from the local store the night before. The accused admitted they were stolen but said he did not steal them.

Carveth's criminal record included two escapes from the Boys' Industrial School and charges of breaking and entering, and retaining stolen goods in his possession. His last conviction was in Vancouver, last February, when he was sentenced to one year's imprisonment.

Specialties Move Higher In To-day's Wall St. Session

New York, April 18.—Specialties furnished the leadership in to-day's stock market with continued gains ranging up to 10 points. While the old-line leaders recovered moderately, selectivity was the rule throughout the session.

The close was firm. Transfers approximated $70,000,000.

Business news was optimistic and speculative sentiment improved. Offerings were scarce and buyers had to boost their bids for favorites.

Coca-Cola shares registered an advance of more than 10 points. In fact, the stock of the Atlanta-based company gained 7 and Union Pacific, North American Edison preferred, Allied Chemical and Du Pont were up about 4 each. Other gains were seen in International Business Machines, Columbia Carbon, American Can, American Agricultural Chemical, Houdell-Henrichy, Consolidated, Standard Products, Chrysler, Woolworth, American Telephone, North American preferred, Johnson & Johnson, and U.S. Steel.

Coca-Cola again followed an announcement that the corporation's cash position had expanded materially in recent months. Higher sales hopes accounted for various other sharp advances.

A narrow price range was maintained by shares of Canadian companies. Small gains appeared in Dominion, McEwen, and International Nickel. On the curb, Lake Shore improved slightly, but Hiram Walker was off a minor fraction. Canadian funds were 1-16 of a cent lower at 99 1/2 cents.

RAILS INDUCE MIXED TREND

Associated Press
New York, April 18.—A grouping tone in secondary rail issues made for general irregularity of price movements in the bond market to-day. Losses of prime quality were firm.

In fact, of Baltimore and Ohio, New York Central and other carriers the early losses averaged half a point. Slightly higher prices were paid for Santa Fe 4 1/2s at 100 1/2, Standard Oil of New York 4 1/4s at 104, and United Fruit 4 1/2s at 99 1/2.

The principal changes in the foreign exchange market were in Pounds 7 1/2 up to 180 1/2, and Australian 5 up to 101 1/2.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—We have been married eight years and have two children. When we were married my wife was very attractive, we had congenial tastes and were very happy. I was quite well off, but shortly after marriage I encountered difficulties in my business. My wife was considerably inconvenienced but did not care for as many others have during these times. She is a musician and organizes a girls' orchestra four years ago. It did not produce any revenue, but the fascination of being away from home and playing in public places has changed her. Her net profits are almost nil, but she claims it is "her life." She is never at home, she neglects her house and the children, she is bored with me and the children, she shows no affection or attention. Her business is packed with troubles and difficulties. She is so nervous and on edge that she is irritable and high-tempered and almost impossible to live with. In a word, I have no wife, the children no mother, and she has what she calls "a career." My family and friends tell me to divorce her, but I am still fond of her, and while my income would support us all comfortably together, I could not provide liberally for her and the children in a separate home. What to do?

Answer—The only remedy for a career-crazed woman is to give her a good strong dose of it and let her work it out of her system. As long as you support her and she has all the comforts of a home and a family to fall back upon, the thrill and excitement she gets in being out in public and among the bright lights are the marriage on her pin.

But if you would tell her that since she refuses to perform any of the obligations of a wife you will no longer provide for her, that since she neglects the children, you are going to take them where they will be taken care of, and that since she will not do her part in making a home it does not matter to you, you might bring her to her senses. Throw her on her own. Let her be homeless and wonder how she is going to pay her rent and where the next meal is coming from, and her career won't look so good to her as a husband and a home will.

The world is full of discontented, restless wives who have got tired of baby-tending and the dull round of domestic duties, and who are setting up gift shops and opening tearooms and antique parlors, where they lose money that their distracted husbands have to pay, and the only cure for them is to make them choose between their careers and home.

For they can't do both. No woman can turn out a good job of being a good wife and mother and housekeeper and follow successfully a career at the same time, because either one takes all of her time and attention and strength. Of course, she can hire somebody to do her cooking for her, and wash and dress her children, but where can she find anyone to give her little children the love and understanding, the ceaseless patience and the never-ending interest of a mother?

It simply can't be done. Modern ingenuity has given us something almost as good as the original article for most things in the world, but nobody yet has invented a synthetic motherhood that takes the place of the real thing.

Of course, if a woman is a God-given genius, if she has some great talent to give the world that talent, there is some excuse for her forsaking her home for a career. But when she has only a little twopenny aptitude for some occupation by which she cannot even make a living, how foolish she is, what a poor bargain she makes when she sacrifices her home and husband for it!

DEAR MISS DIX—I am fifty-three years old. Three years ago I became engaged to a married woman, fifteen years younger than myself. She was good-looking and I was flattered. I was rich and this woman was poor. She at once got a divorce from her husband and pursued me ruthlessly until my wife of thirty years' standing got a divorce, thinking she was securing my happiness. This made it possible for the other woman to marry me, as I had no excuse not to do so after I was divorced. During the divorce I lost my money. Now I am poor and miserable married to this woman, who is daily becoming more and more of a bore to me. I think of my good wife gone, my fortune gone, my prestige gone and think that, oh, if only my wife had only borne with me once more, as she had so often in the past, having nursed me through many affairs of war.

I LEARNED TOO LATE.

Answer—Well, it seems to me, Mister, that you have got just about what was coming to you, and for once the punishment fits the crime. Don't blame your misfortune on your wife's getting tired of forgiving you, of taking you back and protecting you from the gold-diggers who were after you. She must have got sick and weary of the whole sordid business. You must have killed her love and her respect for you long ago by your weakness in not being able to resist any designing female, so she must have at last decided that it wasn't worth while to try any longer to save you and handed you over to your fate.

I imagine that when the old wife of a philanderer does get her divorce from the husband she has nursed through many love affairs that she smiles a grim and cynical smile, for well she knows that the Other Woman is going to avenge her wrongs and inflict upon him a misery almost too great to be borne. For she knows the young woman is marrying him for his money and that she will begin collecting the price for which she has sold herself at the altar.

She knows the young woman will drop all pretense of affection as soon as she has her prey, that she will not try to make him happy, or make him a comfortable home, or consider him in any way. She knows that there is no more ardent and pitiable object on earth than the old husband who sits on the sidelines while his wife dances with boys of her own age and who knows himself nothing but a bill payer.

But if misery loves company, as the proverb says it does, you have the comfort of knowing that there are many other elderly philanderers in your particular hell. For the man who swaps an old wife for a new steadily always repents his bargain in bitterness and tears.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I am engaged to a splendid young man who is a hard worker, but we cannot marry because he promised his father on his deathbed that he would care for his mother and four younger children. His father died when he was a boy and he is the oldest of these children. He is a boy of nineteen, who, at great sacrifice, my sweetheart has tried to put through school, but he is deliberately flunking in his studies so that he can play football on the high school team next year. I work and make almost as much as my fiancé does. What shall we do?

Answer—In the first place, the young man must free himself from the superstition that there is something particularly binding in a deathbed promise. There is not. Such promises wrung from people in distress and under circumstances in which they have no choice but to say something or else are generally better broken than kept. Of course, your sweetheart is in duty bound to help his mother and the children so long as they are little and unable to take care of themselves, but that does not mean that he must sacrifice his whole life to them and be a slave to his family.

The family was his father's obligation, not his, and the father had no right to lay it on the boy's shoulders. In this particular case he should spend no more money in sending to school the boy who will not study and he should force him to go out and support himself. And he should disintegrate the other children's ears that they must study hard so that they can be the earliest moment support themselves.

DOROTHY DIX.

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel"

FRIDAY, APRIL 18, 1935

This is a fairly fortunate day, according to astrology. The stars encourage confidence and enterprise, but there may be mistakes in judgment under this constellation.

Commercial projects should profit. Merchants and manufacturers come under a stimulating influence. Demand for iron and steel may be low, but sudden activity is indicated.

Engineering is to become one of the nation's foremost pursuits.

This is a favorable day for workers in many industries. The stars promise a period of peaceful employment in certain branches of industry. Some in stocks and real estate will meet the coming summer when there will be money to spare.

Women are warned not to take any risks.

This is a lucky day for those who travel in the high seas. The day will benefit financially and engage in interesting expeditions.

Many revolutions of profit and good are represented for the summer. The day is a good day for farmers to-day.

The stars forecast that they will apply most largely in connection with certain parts of the country.

Persons who believe it is a sign of a year of gain through stock and bond investments are indicated. For some sudden gains are indicated.

Children born on this day probably will be successful business men and will be the point of fortune.

Gracie Henson, scholar and university president, was born on this day, 1858, when the stars indicated a brilliant day for her.
